

The Catheter Compass 2.0™

PRODUCT GUIDE

Proudly developed by BrightSky, Australia's leading continence support destination

Using this Product Guide

It is estimated over 4.8<sup>1</sup> million Australians experience some form of incontinence. Many types of incontinence exist and there are a variety of options available to treat and/or manage urinary and faecal incontinence.

A continence assessment conducted by a continence advisor or urologist will help identify the most appropriate continence management plan for an individual.

The Catheter Compass 2.0™ is designed to assist clinicians to select a product when a long term continence management plan is required. It does not replace clinician assessment and treatment. Although these products may be used in the situation of CAUTI, they do not replace traditional physician treatment methods. Where evidence is not available regarding recommended use, product peer opinion has been taken into account.

Correct catheter selection is needed to maximise client comfort and minimise adverse outcomes<sup>2</sup>.

The BrightSky Australia Catheter Compass 2.0™ is used in conjunction with this BrightSky Australia Product Guide.

The Catheter Compass 2.0™

The Catheter Compass 2.0™ helps healthcare professionals select the right catheter for a client when a urological or continence review has resulted in the recommendation of an intermittent or indwelling catheter.

Follow the Catheter Compass Product Selection Path below to help you identify the type of catheter that best meets the needs of an individual client. Then refer to the BrightSky Catheter Product Guide to select a product of the required size and preferred brand.
